

Discovering Peru...

Why Peru? I really wanted to travel to a far destination after I finished studying... And Peru always kind of attracted me. The Andes, Macchu Picchu, the food, the culture,... I'll tell you all about it!

Background info

My name is Petra, I went to Peru in 2013. This is seven years ago, but still an awesome memory I love to think back on. I wanted to write everything down for a while already. And all of a sudden, I have the time to do it! With the lockdown and all... This gave me the perfect reason to create this website, so I can share the experience. And we all get to travel a bit from within our homes... Enjoy!
